Whitehead Designs showcases bespoke pieces at Decorex International

The exquisite, classic and contemporary furniture of Whitehead Designs will be showcased later this month at the leading high-end interior design show for professionals.

A selection of Whitehead's bespoke styles will be unveiled on stand E16 Perks Field at Decorex International 2013, which takes place at its new home in Kensington Palace, London.

The show attracts some of the country's leading interior designers, retail buyers, and hotel and contract specifiers and runs from 22nd to 25th September.

Whitehead Designs, a family-owned and run business with three decades of British handmade craftsmanship and quality, is inviting visitors to step into its unique Mediterranean-themed bedroom stand and relax in its cool décor.

Its unrivalled Ruskin chair and new matching footstool – individually upholstered by a master craftsman – will be on show in Titley and Marr's Rose coloured Cowdray linen and viscose, as well as a unique headboard and window seat.

Whitehead Designs is collaborating with artist Svetlana Shellshear, who is creating an exquisite bespoke wallcovering to tie in with the Mediterranean theme.

The Whitehead range of hand-crafted upholstery is opulent and stylish and includes sofas, chaises, occasional and dining chairs, footstools and side tables, as well as bedroom furniture. All Whitehead furniture is made to order and takes six weeks to produce from receipt of fabric.
